To save trouble and mistakes to thers, I will thank you to give that letter place in your paper for two successiveeks. So many months having passed size I offered my services, it may be necessary to give at least that notice of my withdraw al.

Your friend, JOHN C. WEEMS. August 31st, 1822.

To the People of Prince George's and Ann Arundel Counties, and City of Annapolis

Fellow Citizens,
A dispute having taken place between Mr. George Howard, of Brice, and certain of his brother democrats, as appeared in the Maryland Republican, of the 2d of Jo ly inst -Mr H's answer has come or (from necessity I suppose) in handbills, on of which I have now before me, in whi render it necessary for me to notice it. did, as Mr. Howard has stated, declare my self a candidate for congress last Septem ber, in Prince George's in the first insta to prevent quarrelling, and perhaps fight ing, among the people at a large democrat ic meeting, about the right i had as a pri vate citizen of Anne Arundel, to offer any thing for their consideration, it not have suited any of their orators that day to tend: and again, the next day, at anoth large meeting called by my friend, Mr.
Robert Bowie In conversation with me, he expressed his unwillingness to allow pivate gentlemen that day to take up an uslimited portion of the time which belongs to candidates, complaining at the time of the unreasonable trespass that had previous to that been committed on him by a privile citizen, who had taken up 2 1-2 hours the afternoon, not leaving him time to half he wished to the people. To remain all those difficulties and objections, &c. &s informed Mr. B. that I, like himself, wa

a candidate before the people; and agua that day, as soon as I had an opportunity, repeated the offer of my services, invited those present, and through them, the neighbours, to examine into my life as conduct from my infancy to the Octobre election of 1822, observing that amptime, opwards of 13 months, was afford them to have the question solved—Is he brest—is he capable? And that if after the election it was found I had obtained the confidence, I should esteem it the higher honour that could be conferred on m; as I among a confidence of the conferred on m; as I amon present, and through then confidence, I should esterm it us, in honour that could be conferred on me; an I engaged to enlist in their cause a hent sincereas it had always been hones, for with all the real and ability it might pless God to give, to bring things back to the good old golden standard, established by our fathers, much as they have been almost and abused by the patriots of modern and abused by the patriots of modern and the main spring of whose actions with imperatine public good, but self-if we sence in my motives at the kine, its presence in my motives at the kine, its presence in my motives at the kine, its presence in my filedge, had I the opportantly afforded; but of this I confess I hade hopes at the time, having myself, at the hopes at the time, having myself, at the proposed to those with whom. Already have many of the honest hut deluded men of the democratic party, had their eyes opened sufficient to see, that not only federalists have been obliged to surrender every thing like a participation if the government of their choice, but their they [honest democrats] are now called on to surrender still more, the freedom of will. No longer are they to be allowed to think for themselves; and if they dare but express an opinion, they, like Mr. George Howard, and those he mentions in his first letter that he conversed with, to wit: Dessrs. R. Igle-hart, James Gaither, Linthicum, Clark, Treakle and Lawrence, all sterling republicans, are all to be denounced as they have been, "betty confiled politicians"—ambitions, designing individuals, destitute of sufficient talents to attract the public attention, or have proved themselvés by their principles or their conduct unworthy of ablic confidence; who have no merit in public connector; who have no merit in themselves, and can only hope for tempora-ry success by falsehood, fraud and artifice. Thus do we find the work already com-menced. Those would be nobles of theland who have so long dictated everything, & having now completely putdown, asthey proud ly believe, all opposition from without, the assertions of the writer of the remark to the contrary notwithstanding, will not for a moment allow any thing of the sort to arise in their own ranks. They are therefore in their own ranks. They are therefore determined at once to frighten all such characters back again into their usual submis sion, and so powerful is the force of habit. that they are for the present, perhaps, to

Men who have been drilled, as many democrats have been for years past, and brot up like hounds in coupling irons, and so held at the polls until their votes were se eured, agreeable to the direction of a few dictators of Annapolis, where all plans are formed, and from whence all orders do emanate, mantled with the impressive words. the Will of the People, are not likely they hope, soon to assert their freedom; although a do believe that at this very moment nine tenths of the people groan under their servinde, each fearful to attempt any thing. Until this unaccountable fear be removed, R would be giving myself unnecessary, use-less trouble to renew my offers of service to the people as a candidate for congress. But this I will offer, that whenever a lew, I say a few, respectable individuals of that party because but few are wanted, shall come for ward and solicit my aid, in putting down those petty tyrants, they shall have it, be it little or much. Only a few are wanted to begin the work, provided they begin it in earnest and good faith. The people are ripe for the glorious undertaking; they are heartily sick of being put off, as they have long been, with the shadow instead of the substance, and long now to get rid of their indolent masters, who as a dernier resort haps more so, than they ever did federalists But so soon as they find you no longer willing to submit, you will find them like Spaniels, cringing at your feet, flattering and fawning as heretolore. But it will then be too late; you will have then found them out as we have long since done, to be in reality, "the sons of their father," for whom you will feel yourselves bound to come out, and not again to touch or handle them.

However beautiful they may appear without, like unto whited sepulchres, yet you well remember, that within they are all corrememoer, that within they are all corruption and deceit. Yes, my fellow citizens, federalists are very willing to amalgamate with honest democrats, for they care not about names, and to be one people, after having put down those vile politicial hypoerites, who have so long governed us with a rod of iron, as they shew themselves determined now to govern you, if they can termined now to govern you, if they can by any means continue to keep up those oy any mesos continue to keep up those slavish fears, that have so long accured you and the government within their grasp. They are the sons of darkness, who must perish with their deeds, when exposed to light.

Once they held out to you, that rotation in office belonged to republicans, as theex citement to, and reward of merit. Now what do you learn? Why, that Doctor Kent. and all such like creatures of their will, are entitled, if they please to say so, to claim a lite estate in the honoursthey hold, if there entitled, if they please to say so, to claim a life estate in the honours they hold, if there can be any honour in holding an appointment on such terms. But why do I take a hout honour? It could never have entered their thoughts. It is the empluments, directly and indirectly sto be obtained, that they are in love with seid not voluntarily to be given up. But the time; must and will come, when you, the honoit people of the land, petty corn field policians (as these nobles contemptuously style you) will bring these men to a reckoning and no longer to consent to be satisfied with having the takent, committed to their charge, buried has napkin. Had this been your determination for years past, Dector Kent, who by his votes brought war in your land, and the enemy to your capital, would not have been able to shut himself up, as a member of congress, in his house, on the day of the baile of Bladensburg, within feur miles of his home, and, excuse himself, afterwards from risking a little of his own blood, merely with the plea of not having gone over to the enemy. Not you would have required do him and his fellow workers, the middlity of Annapolis, to show their patriotism by their actions analysis by their neglects. Shew me thy faith without works, and I will show mine by my works, is the light actions analysis by their neglects. Shew me thy faith without works, and I will show mine by my works, is the light and there is an old saying, that dog will not set dog, yet we have often heard of, dogs birking and goowing at dogs, ha an excuse with disputes like the present, altogether there is an old saying, that dog will not set dog, yet we have often heard of, dogs birking and goowing at dogs, ha an excuse with disputes like the present, altogether there is an old saying, that dog will not set dog, yet we have often heard of, dogs birking and goowing at dogs, ha an excuse with a prince of those vellebrated, remarks in the opportunity for abiting federalism and set raints. But that white not have been singing to have caused i can be any honour in holding an appointculated to support their interest, as my friend Dector Kent, who, by Mr Howard's account, has been brought out in direct on position to myself, although he assured me four years ago, he never would be again in my way; and although be last year assured General Marrioth he would not be in his way it was not became the head of t be a radical, that he has consented to be be a radical, that he has consented to he brought out against me. He knows that to be impossible. It was not because he thinks it dangerous for a federal to be in congress. He knows, that long since, with the exception of Maryland, there has been no such thing known as federal and democracy; nothing of at least in congress. It was not because he wished the honour, he has long since declared himself tired of that. Then since declared himself tired of that. The it must be owing to what I have pronounced it, as he once said of his opponent. Ar heartily welcome, could Anne Arundel county be exempt from the disgrace, which she has thus been made to endure for 22 years, and the district have a value returned years, and the distinct navea value resulting. But this can never happen, whilst Doctor Kent and his friends, this Annapolis junto, continue to be dictators. Anne-Arundel is never to be allowed to participate in the congressional honours of this district. He is to have a life estate, if not the right to bequeath it to whom he will at his death; un ess, indeed, he can be removed into the Senate, and then Mr Samuel Sprigg is so be elected in his place—so easy is it for these dictators to manage all as they please. It is said to have been already planned in the Star Chamber of Annapolis, that he shall be put in the Senate of the United States, in after this manner his Excellency Samue Sprigg is to be brought forward against Samuel Smith, who, they begin to believe, must have known considerably more about the loss austained by the United States' Bank, of 1,500,000 from the firm of Smith and Buchanan, than they heretofore found it prudent to allow; and that it would there-fore disgrace the nation to have him elected by the Legislature of Maryland into the by the Legislature of Maryland into the Senate. They had no objections to his being in the lower house, whilst it could be known that the people, the mixed multitude of Baltimore, sent him there; as they think as contemptibly of them as they do of the "petty cornfield politicians." But into the Senate he must not go. Should the action he must not go. Should the eastern shore delegations contend for him, they wil plead up the old federal hue and cry about Baltimore influence; and should that not be years acquaintance has caused them to dis-like, (Samuel Sprigg,) then the doctor is to ed for Mr. Sprigg to take his seat in con-gress, which they can easily secure by a call of their caucus to pronounce him, in the of their caucus to pronounce him, in the Star Chamber, their caucus candidate, consequently, the choice of the people; and Mr. Bowie and Gen. Marriott, as well as John C. Weems, must submit. Thus, my friends, have they wheels within wheels. But this little Board of Dictators pronounce But this little Board of Dictators pronounce that they are the people, and all that they do, they do for the good of the people; and now that fedefalists have withdrawn, it is left with you, "petty cornfield politicians" of the democratic party; to decide how long these few dictatorial men shall thus continne insolently to prenounce themselves to be the people, and you a set of unprincipled petty corn-field fools that know nothing, and consequently have no right to meddle with matters of this sort. But inquiry is on foot; those masterly Essays written by a daily opening the eyes of many, who, when they come to examine the trial of Lieut. Hampton Roads is mentioned in the ship ping list, states, that the seas about Porto Rico are annoyed with Spanish privateers, and that their depredations are so frequent and vexatious that a vessel, however legal and vexatious that a vessel, however legal may be her pursuits, is not by any means safe if she is fallen in with by them. The brig General A Jackson, Langdon, of and from New York, bound to Curracoa, was fallen in with by a felucea of this description, when, after overhauling her papers, they were pronounced as spurious or false, they were pronounced as spurious or false, the privateersmen declaring that they knew she was bound to the Main, and immediately proceeded to rob and plunder Captain Langdon, in whose possession however, they foundbut 16 doubloons in money, which they soon deprived him of, took his vessel into Ponce toy trial, which was progressing when the between the world be condemned. A gigantic and well disciplined system of villainy has been detected and brought to A gigantic and well disciplined system of villainy, has been detected and brought to light through the medium of the postoffice. A correspondence between the convicts in the Baltimore penitentiary, and a number of persons in and out of the city, has for some time been carried on, by which means an organised system of counterfeiting and altering bank notes, was established in the penitentiary. Thureen plates, or rather parts of plates, of five, ten, twenty and fifty dollar bills, for altering genuine notes of dollar bills, for altering genuine notes of lower denominations were found. The genuine notes were furnished by one of the deputy keepers, who is now in confine-ment, and whose detection was owing to the letters being intercepted at the post office, and the dies and plates being found in a bag which was stowed away in the loft of one of the departments.

of the convicts were concerned in the transaction, one of whom cut the dies, and the other three were employed in dis-seminating the spurious notes by letters, and receiving genuine ones in return. The notes that have been detected were principally on the Frederick County Bank pally on the Frederick County Bank. The attitude, as tranquil as generous, which the inhabitants of this capital have maintained since the brilliant victory obtains. ed, over the old troops of the elite, cannot fail to confound the enemies of the Constitution. Posterity will find it difficult to be-lieve that so much moderation was united with so much courage. But in being mode-rate, the inhabitants of Madrid are very far from neglecting every possible precaution.

The volunteer militia and the garrison continue under arms, and in the same positions which they occupied in the morning of the 7th. They wait till everything shall be restored to its natural state. This brave militia now shares with the troops of the line the honour and fatigue of guarding the palace of the King, who repeatedly testifies to them his satisfaction. It is said that his Majesty proposes immediately to have a general review of the volunteer militia.

What a subject for regret to the machinators of this criminal conspiracy! But what must still torment them more, is the having themselves destroyed a privileged corps, which constantly presented to them a nucleus for their conspiracies against the liberty of their country. The new guards will be organized in an entirely patriotic and national spirit, according to the late regulations decreed by the Cortes.
